

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The invention relates to flooring that uses a woven face fabric bonded to engineered backing structures, which may include urethane-modified bitumen, PVC, or similar polymer backing. The face cloth can be woven so as to provide a textured appearance using, e.g., Jacquard computer controlled looms.